

FAQs

What is Omnilux Men?

Based on the world's leading Omnilux Medical™ light therapy technology, Omnilux Men is an FDA- cleared, flexible, portable, affordable home use device that uses medical-grade light emitting diodes (LEDs) to reduce fine lines and wrinkles and improve overall skin tone, texture, and health.

How does it work?

Optimized energy output and three clinically proven wavelengths of light (red 633nm, near-infrared 830nm, and near-infrared 1072nm) work on a cellular level to stimulate new collagen production and create a strong anti-inflammatory response that heals and repairs men's skin from within.

How safe is it?

Over 40 clinical studies and nearly 20 years of Omnilux experience have proven that Omnilux light therapy is very safe, with no adverse side effects, no pain and no downtime. Omnilux Men generates no heat and is safe for all skin types.

What is the treatment regimen?

We recommend a course of treatments: three to five 10-minute treatments per week, for 4-6 weeks. Thereafter, use as desired for maintenance.

Can I use it with my current skincare products?

Omnilux Men is compatible with most skin care routines. It can also be used in conjunction with other professional skin treatments such as microneedling, peels, microdermabrasion, laser treatments, injections or fillers to optimize results and reduce downtime.

0% Complicated.
100% Efficient.

Omnilux Men is the only LED home use mask calibrated with three optimized wavelengths, including 1072nm, a near-infrared wavelength that penetrates deeper into men's thicker skin. With this one simple tool and three to five 10 minute sessions per week, you can achieve medical grade, clinically proven results.

Customers Love Omnilux:

Since entering my 40s, my skin has looked more tired and the bags under my eyes have become very prominent. I've never really used skincare products until I was introduced to Omnilux Men – it's very easy to use and has improved my skin significantly in only a few weeks.

Designed for Men. Medical Grade Results.

Omnilux™ Men is premium technology specifically engineered to address a man's unique skincare needs. From razor burn and dryness to fine lines, dark circles, and under-eye bags, Omnilux advanced LED technology provides visible, clinically proven results that empower every man to put his best face forward.

The Problem

Men's skin is different than women's. Thicker, dryer with a coarser texture and larger pores, men's skin has unique needs that require specially engineered technology and a customized approach.

Omnilux Men: The Tech-Powered Solution

Optimized energy output and three clinically proven wavelengths of light (red 633nm, near-infrared 830nm, and near-infrared 1072nm) work on a cellular level to stimulate new collagen production and create a strong anti-inflammatory response that heals and repairs men's skin from within. Just 10 minutes 3-5 times a week for 4-6 weeks provides clinically proven, medical-grade results in the comfort and convenience of home.

Clinically-Proven. FDA-Cleared.

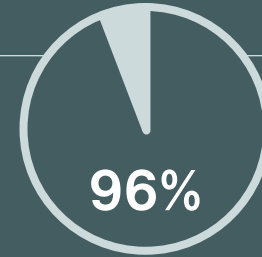

Omnilux is the brand of professional light therapy devices preferred by dermatologists and skin care professionals worldwide since 2003. Now this proven technology is available to treat men's unique skincare needs in the comfort and convenience of your home.

Real Results

In clinical studies, Omnilux has been shown to reduce the appearance of fine lines in nearly all participants, and 98% agreed their skin felt firmer.

To Use

Three to five 10-minute treatments per week for 4-6 weeks. Once the initial series is complete, use as a routine part of your skincare routine to maintain results.

Users in clinical studies agreed that after 3 Omnilux treatments per week for 4 weeks, their fine lines appeared less visible
